Dedication

MR. FRED GROGG

We, the Senior Class of 1966, wish to dedicate our annual to Mr. Grogg in appreciation for all the understanding, patience, and guidance he has given us throughout our school years.

Mr. Grogg started his teaching career here at Rock Creek in 1962. He taught us mathematics, chemistry, and physical education. He coached us in track and cross-country.

To Mr. Grogg goes our sincere wishes for many more successful years of teaching.

Like man, what a 220!

Do you want to know
now or later?

Do you really want to know what magazines interest men?

I hope you can count better than the Juniors.

Oh-h-h, these kids!!

Oh, migosh! Here she comes.

With concentration, you could do it with your eyes closed too.

Seniors At Work

1966 (Plus Ten Years)

JIM JORDAN, an astro-psychologist for N. A. S. A., along with DELOSS BRUBAKER, an astro-biologist, were returning from the third round-trip ever to be made to Venus, in a Venus Probe-3 space ship. Called the "Spirit of '66," it was piloted by myself, Commander ALAN GEIGER of the Space Force. We had just completed a job vital to further interplanetary travel and were on our way back to Earth.

We landed on the Moon at Nose-Cone Crater and decided to get something to eat before returning to Earth. We stopped in at Fisher's Discotheque where we came across an old school mate, MIKE FISHER, who owned and operated the new night club. He served us drinks which were "out of this world." He also invited us to stay for his feature attraction, Miss DIANE FILLMAN, doing the new dance sensation that was rocking the solar system: the Milky Way Twist.

After thoroughly enjoying ourselves, we hopped a trans-space ferry to Earth. To our misfortune and amazement, it was piloted by a lunatic driver, MARVIN RALSTON, who had a record for crazy driving. On this trip he again displayed his ability to ruin whatever he was driving: He tore out the main propulsion system trying to blast off too quickly, and we had to limp to Earth on the emergency system.

Marvin also proved his ability to spell when he landed us in the United States on the Pacific instead of the Atlantic Coast. To top it all off, he managed to land us in a secluded spot miles from any town but near a government project that was labeled TOP SECRET on the gate. A security guard took us inside to his superior who, to our good fortune, was the noted physicist: DANIEL W. DRABENSTOT. After seeing that Marvin was the one who was driving, he asked no question. He did inform us, though, that KELLY JOE SNYDER was busy engineering the construction of an atomic reactor for his (Dan's) TOP SECRET PROJECT and was due to arrive in a short time for dinner.

When we were finished eating and had talked for a few hours, we set out for the nearest city where we could catch a nuclear plane for Chicago. It was a new, 1000 passenger plane that traveled at speeds as high as 10,000 M. P. H.

We landed at O'Hare Field in Chicago, shortly before breakfast, on the day before we left the Pacific Coast. At the airport we bumped into MIKE LYONS and LARRY PARKS, big business accountants and former classmates of ours, who had just returned from New York where they had straightened out a big industrial mix-up. Outside the airport, JUDY (STICKLER) Parks was waiting (with her two sets of twins) in her car to take her husband home. They gave us a lift to the transportation center.

We set out for Huntington, Indiana (via monorail), and arrived just in time to witness the dedication of a new Industrial Arts building for the Huntington County Community School Corporation. It had been built by the MIKE MEIER Construction Company. We learned that GALEN LOWERY, a former student and Senior of 1966 (as was Mike), was to be the head of the new department. Galen and Mike told us that DICK EVERSOLE had become very wealthy almost overnight from a hamburger stand. Naturally, this surprised us, until they told us it was the largest McDonald's stand in the WORLD!

We decided to visit Dick's stand so we drove a turbo-jet ground car to Fort Wayne. When we arrived, Dick invited us to eat with him. As we were talking, a big, black limousine pulled up in front of the stand. Two very sophisticated women dressed in mink stepped out of the car. We seemed to be in the presence of royalty and were about to bow down when we noticed that the women looked familiar. They turned out to be none other than two former classmates from our Senior Class: SHIRLEY MASTERSON and KAREN BROWN. Shirley told us that she was president of Lincoln Life in Fort Wayne and Karen was her right-hand man, er, ah, her right-hand woman!

Leave it to Deloss; he just couldn't resist a free meal and ate too much. He all but passed out onto the floor. We rushed him to the Lutheran Hospital. (He said he knew some nurses there so that's why we went.) We entered the door marked "Emergency," and two nurses quickly came to our assistance. The two nurses were two former classmates: PAULA NICHOLS and JILL WEST. (No wonder Deloss knew them!) Paula was Head Nurse, and her faithful friend, Jill, was her assistant and also Medical Technician. Together, they practically ruled the hospital.

Now that Deloss was feeling revived, we continued on our way. We headed down Indiana Highway #3 to U. S. #224 and proceeded to Uniondale where we practically hit the final member of our Senior Class: LINDA (BEAR) Houtz. She said that she and her husband (Gerry Houtz, not one of our former classmates) had been married about two years after he had been graduated. We visited for awhile and then had to go because our leaves-of-absence were about gone.

We all felt that it had been a most fruitful journey as we headed back to our space ship on the Moon. We hoped that all these SENIORS OF 1966 would continue to prosper. We also hoped that sometime in the future (maybe on some far-distant star) we could have a reunion and reminisce about our years together at West Rock Creek.

Rock Creek's Cross-country team, coached by Mr. Grogg, had a very successful year. They won quite a few of their meets and came in second in the Huntington County Cross-country championship meet this fall. (Congratulations!)

The boys were good this year and with the crop coming up, the new school next year should have an excellent track team.

Work hard fellas and more power to you in '66'!!
